situational analysis

Strategic context

Examine and analyze how the strategic plans in your area affect your event. Study the plans of your Council, regional organization, and state body to understand how your event can align with their activities. Take note of their target audiences and goals.

Include a paragraph highlighting the aspects from these plans that either have an impact or should influence how your event is organized and promoted.

Strengths, challenges and opportunities analysis

Evaluate the strengths, barriers, and potential opportunities for your event. Take into account events within your region as well as similar events outside the region.

| Strengths | Challenges | Opportunities Using the event's strengths to tackle challenges uncovers opportunities. |

Target markets (aka ideal event attendees)

Clearly defining the ideal attendees for your event is crucial for identifying key actions to attract more visitors. For instance, if you target families with children aged 6-11, you can plan family-friendly activities and market accordingly. It's important to align your event's target markets with those of your region.

| Primary target markets | |
|------------------------|--|
| Demographic | E.g. age, gender, marital status, age of children, income level, education level |
| Geographic | Where they live |
| Psychographic | Behaviours, goals, habits, values, interests, motivations, hobbies, and choices e.g. watches TV, plays sports, likes to eat out, eats healthily, prefers active recreation, commutes a lot |

Secondary target markets

You may have identified families with older children and couples who love gourmet food as your primary targets but recognise that many grey nomads will also attend your event and, therefore, they need to be considered when planning and promoting the event.

Vision and mission

Vision

Describe in one sentence where the event will be in e.g. three to five years' time. This is the goal your team will strive to attain.

For instance, [Your event] aims to be financially self-sufficient, drawing 6,000 overnight participants and fostering resilience and pride in our community.

Mission

Outline in a single sentence the approach the event will take to realize its vision.

For example, [Your event] offers an outstanding experience for both locals and visitors.

| Values and indentity | |
|--|--|
| The primary values which underpin decisions made by event organisers are | Community participation Fun 3. |
| The themes which reveal the event's identity are | Authentic Outback Sports 3. |

Aims/Objectives The primary aims the event is attempting to achieve are 1. Increase visitation to our town 2. Build community pride 3.

Priorities

Identify the main areas of focus for your event committee over the next three years, taking into account branding/marketing, creating exceptional event experiences, governance/finances, and operational aspects, including risk management.

The key priorities for the next three years are

- 1. Become financially self-sustaining without reliance on grants
- 2. Grow overnight visitation

Goals

For each priority, outline SMART goals, ensuring they are Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic, and Time-bound. Modify the following examples to suit your event.

Achieve financial independence without depending on grants

- 1. Decrease grant dependence by $15,000 annually.
- 2. Introduce at least one new income source annually for the next three years, such as securing sponsorships, boosting merchandise sales, or increasing ticket sales.
- 3. Establish a reserve fund equivalent to 150% of yearly operational expenses within the next five years.

This table shows what [your event] aims to achieve, the steps planned to reach these goals, and how success will be measured. Adjust the examples to fit your event.
